What started as a dream and a vision in a spare room of a Vermont South home is now one of Australia's most successful IT as a Service provider.

Fuelled by a passion for IT, for customer service and for technical excellence, we have witnessed an organic growth of 20-30% year after year, for the past 18 years.

For 18 years, we have been trusted to deliver business-critical infrastructure services to businesses across the world and have revolutionised the way organisations access technology to their advantage.

This is our journey. This is our story.

At the heart of this journey is our people. Everything we are today has been built on a foundation of passionate, dedicated, like-minded people.

We hire people who are smart, driven and thrive in a culture of autonomy and empowerment. We love self-starters who are creative and hands-on contributors.

We value our diversity. Our team is an eclectic, fun-loving bunch hailing from all over the world with varied backgrounds and different personalities.

At blueAPACHE, our people are our biggest strength and greatest asset.

We have come a long way since first conceptualising our IT as a Service model in 2002. Our customer mix has expanded, our service catalogue has grown, our reach extended, and our specialist teams now near 80 people.

We are as excited about the future as we are proud of our journey till here.
